GERMANY REGULATES CLOTHING Must Be Returned.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press) BERNE, Switzerland, Nov. 3.—To and rigor of the clothing cards introduced less than a year ago.

The regulation applies to cotton stockings, gloves, collars, table linen and cloth materials for various household purposes. For every suit or overcoat two well worn, or one in good condition must be surrendered. The only aritcles of ordinary wear or use that are exempted from card regulation are wooden shoes and sill

More than a year ago there was much talk in Germany of reducing ing patriotic women to return to the old but fashionable tight skirt. The maximum quantity of material, in meters, which should be used for a dress was even stipulated. The economy was not successfully accomplished, however, for the German women, though they shortened their skirts appreciably, wore them wide and full. Now, therefore, there is pending a rigid specification limiting the number of yards of cloth which may be devoted to any garment of given proportions-depending upon the size of the prospective wearer. And if the wearer needs linen and other garments rather than outer clothes, she must turn in three corresponding, worn-out pieces of lingerie. These rules and regulations, which are growing stricter each month, have naturally led to an increased amount of deception, and countless attempts have been made by those who possess stocks of clothing to evade the card system by selling at abnormally high prices to those who cannot procure cards. The latest reports from Berlin tell of the arrest of a woman who was found to have concealed 1,500 dozen pairs of stockings. These she was peddling in little cafes and resorts where there was a minimum danger of her discovery and at
